

Occupational Health and Safety

The eLearning People Occupational Health and Safety Induction course has been designed by health and safety experts to provide fast, consistent, measurable OHS training that will reduce injuries, improve the safety culture in your organisation and fulfill legal OHS requirements.

Why eLearning People - what's the difference?

The eLearning People Occupational Health and Safety course is an easy, cost-effective way to provide health and safety training for all your staff.

This is an easy-to-use OHS course that engages learners and builds understanding with interactive activities, workplace simulations, animations and quizzes that focus on providing relevant information simply and clearly. Our premium training also satisfies OHS compliancy regulations.

Reduce the downtime, effort and cost of your organisation's OHS training and compliance with the eLearning People Occupational Health and Safety Induction course.

Why eLearning - why not attend classes?

- Reduced training costs
- Reduced training time
- More effective learning
- Guaranteed expert training
- Flexible, convenient delivery anywhere, anytime

Course Content

- OHS Responsibilities
- Hazard Management
- Manual Handling
- Emergency Procedures
- Consultation and Issue Resolution
- Bullying in the Workplace
- Hazardous Substances

Michael Menzies
0421 649 737
03 87968411
m.menzies@elearningpeople.com
www.elearningpeople.com